LOCAL MATTERS.

Sun rises to-morrow at 5:33; and sets at 6:27. High water 7:37 a. m. and 7:58 p. m.

WEATHER PROBABILITIES.—For this section rain, probably followed Tuesday by fair; cooler; southerly, shifting to south-westerly winds.

RAID ON GAMBLERS.—Jackson City was raided Saturday night and most of the suspicious characters that it contained were driven across Long bridge to Washington, arrested as they stepped from the bridge, and locked up at the various police stations. The raid was made jointly by Inspector Hollinberger's force of detectives and the authorities of Alexandria city and county. A dozen policemen detailed from the various precincts in Washington went with the detectives. By 1 o'clock the detectives, policemen and a number of patrol wagons were within a block of the Washington end of the bridge. Several detectives were stationed on the bridge shortly after 1 o'clock, and stopped every person who started to cross to Virginia, and kept them corralled until the mob of thugs commenced to pour in. This was in order to keep word from getting to the Jackson City gamblers that the raid was about to be made. Lieutenant Smith, with Officers Tier, Hayes and Smith, of this city, had appeared and practically surrounded the town. Detectives Horn and Weedon were with the blue coats. It was their purpose to carefully scan the faces of the aggregation to be driven out, and recognize, if possible, several well known New York thieves who have been lingering at Alexander Island for several weeks. The detectives were also empowered to leave behind certain employees and persons known to be residents at Jackson City, in order that pillage might not follow the raid. When the town was surrounded the officers moved forward and commanded the touts and toughs who were prowling on the outskirts of the place to move toward the bridge. The order created consternation. Word was passed from house to house. A few greenhorns who were in the dens for the purpose of beating the sharpers out of their money, were terror-stricken and tried to hide under the tables and benches. Hiding didn't go, however. The officers dug everybody out and started them on a run for the bridge. The old-timers, however, knew that it was useless to object. They simply picked up their effects and walked out, crossed the bridge, were taken into custody, and were locked up.

ARRESTED ON SUSPICION.—Lieutenant Smith and Officers Hayes, Tier and Smith had a double mission in their visit to Jackson City Saturday night. While they vied with the county and Washington authorities in clearing the place of the scum of humanity which infests that place, they were also after an individual named Edward Desmon, who is believed to be implicated in the robbery of James Fornhill and the burglary of the safe of the ferry company in Washington. Billy Williams, a well known in this city, was later arrested in Washington on suspicion of being implicated in the affair and the officers are on the lookout for a third man known as "Jack." The trio, it is believed, committed the crime at the ferry wharf, and it is also believed they blew open the safe in John Clark's saloon at Rosslyn, and a safe in a Georgetown grocery store last winter. The Alexandria officers surrounded the house of a man named Chandler where Desmon was known to be, and the object of their search started to leave when he was collared and placed under arrest. The officers then began a search for the tools used in the burglary, and in an old bag lying close by they found about a dozen drills used by burglars and a box of plumbago. The latter is used to prevent friction in drilling into iron and also to muffle the noise which would otherwise be made. These articles were in boxes about as large as half-pint measures. Desmon had $130 on his person when searched at the station house in this city. The police believe several burglaries have been planned by these men. One was to have occurred in Alexandria, and the other at a small town down the river, where a safe in a post-office was to have been cracked. The claim is made, too, that the burglars had planned to rob a safe on North Capitol street, Washington, but that the idea was given up, as the locality was too public. Desmon will be taken to Washington as soon as requisition papers can be procured. He says he is from Cincinnati and refuses to say anything about his police record. He is about twenty-five years old, five feet six inches tall, and quite slender. Desmon, in an interview in the jail in this city yesterday, asserted his innocence of the charge urged against him, and stated he was from Chicago where he said he is well connected. Detectives from Washington came here today for the purpose of conducting Desmon back to that city, but the prisoner refused to accompany them without the proper requisition papers were produced. He will be kept here until they are prepared.

A VICIOUS NEGRO.—A passenger train on the Washington Southern Railway which left Washington at 8:40 last night carried a negro named Richard Calvert, who had secreted himself on the platform of the baggage car near the tender. Fireman Duncan saw him and ordered him to get off. Calvert said he would get off at Ninth street, but failed to do, and when the train ran on the Long bridge Engineer Davis concluded that he would stop at Waterloo and compel the negro to get off. The train was brought to a standstill at that point and the fireman compelled Calvert to vacate his perch. The negro when he reached the ground became vicious and hurled stones at Mr. Duncan at such a rate that he was compelled to dodge behind the cars to escape being injured. Calvert cursed the fireman and engineer and threw a rock in the cab which broke the air pump of the engine. When the train reached this city Special Officer Kimball was informed of the occurrence and he started after the negro. He found him running and brought him to this city. The Mayor this morning held him for the action of the county authorities.

Mrs. Mattie Knoxville. wife of Chas. Knoxville, died at her residence on north Washington street yesterday, after an illness of nine months' duration, aged 27 years.

FAREWELL SERMON.—A large congregation filled the M. E. Church yesterday morning. After singing and prayer by Rev. Mr. Dean, of the M. P. Church, Rev. Mr. Carson gave an invitation for any to unite with the church and eight accepted. This makes 150 additions to the church during the last month. He then read the 53d chapter of Isaiah, remarking that he had read this at the first communion service at which he had officiated in this church. He also read 1 Cor. 13th chapter, after which he said: "I will preach a short sermon from a short text, the shortest sermon I have ever preached here or at any other place. All present will be able to remember every word of it. It was preached by our Saviour and by the Apostle Paul and certainly I may preach it to you. At least it is all I can preach you this morning. It is, 'Love one another.' Matt. vi., 24. The services were very impressive and all present seemed to be filled with sadness at parting from their beloved pastor. The communion service which followed was the largest and the most touching scene ever known in the history of the church. At night Rev. Dr. Tagg, of the M. P. Church, preached an able and interesting sermon from Isaiah xl., 8: "The grass withereth, the flower fadeeth, but the word of our God shall stand forever." He showed in a learned discourse how the works of infidels and skeptics and infidelity itself had changed, but God's Word had never changed. After the sermon Mr. Carson made a few remarks on his four years of pastoral work here. He said: "I have never in forty years' work met with more kindness and love—far more than I deserved. I have loved you, but not enough to deserve all your kindness, and the assimilation between us has been so great that I can hardly permit myself to think of parting from you. I have tried to preach Christ as best I could. I am but a human and may have made mistakes. If so I ask your forgiveness." He then thanked the people for their help and stated that through their labors combined with those of others who had been among us the membership had increased from 500 to 775. He closed by saying "God bless you. Good bye."

POLICE COURT.—Mayor Strauss presiding. The following cases were disposed of this morning: Theodore Rout, arrested by Lieutenant Smith for being drunk and disorderly and for resisting arrest, forfeited $10 collateral.

Richard Colvert, arrested by Special Officer Kimball for stoning a passenger train, was held for the action of the county authorities.

Edward Desmon, arrested by Lieut. Smith on suspicion of robbing the safe at the ferry wharf in Washington, was held for a further hearing.

J. M. Grant, colored, arrested by Officer Davis for stealing a pair of pants, was sent to the chain gang for 90 days.

John Trigger, arrested by Officer Beach for defacing property, was fined $5.

Isaac Johnson, colored, arrested by Officer Davis charged with stealing a dog collar, was fined $3.

NIGHT REPORT.—Last night was cloudy with rain about 12 o'clock. Three prisoners and two lodgers were at the station house.

PERSONAL.—Elizabeth Payne Lomax, writing in a Washington paper, says: "Miss Marietta Minnigerode, who is quite young, has had many acknowledgments of merit in artistic circles. She has studied chiefly under Prof. Andrews, of the Corcoran School of Art, and has been assistant instructor in that school for about five years. Miss Minnigerode has some fifty studies and pictures in water color on exhibition at the Fischer galleries in Washington."

Miss Carrie M. Wise is visiting Mrs. I. H. Saunders at Danville.

Miss Florence Herbert and Miss Rebecca Daingerfield will spend Easter at the University of Virginia.

Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Smoot have issued cards to a fancy dress dancing party to be given at their handsome residence on Prince street next Monday night to their guests, the Misses Webb.

STOLEN PAIR OF PANTS.—A negro named J. M. Grant was seen yesterday wearing a pair of pantaloons which had been stolen from Mr. Milford B. Self. They had been hanging on a clothes line in a yard before stolen and Grant had been in the neighborhood collecting slops. The police got on the track of the thief, but he eluded them for a time and made for the American Coal wharf where he unceremoniously jumped overboard. Officer Davis procured a boat and started him. This morning Grant passed under the observation. He repudiated the aspersion that he would steal, said he was a member of Ebenezer Baptist church and that he had bought the pantaloons from a colored boy. He was sent to the chain gang for three months. Grant was baptized yesterday morning while wearing the stolen pantaloons.

YESTERDAY.—Yesterday was Palm Sunday—the Sunday preceding Easter—and commemorating the triumphal entry of Christ into Jerusalem. Large crowds of people attended the services in the different churches. At St. Mary's Church the ceremony of blessing and distributing palms was observed, but the palms were not of as pretty variety as have been used on other occasions. After the services many persons fastened little pieces of palm into crosses and wore them on their coats or wraps. The Baptist, Methodist and Presbyterian pulpits were filled by delegates to the M. P. conference now in session here and services were conducted in these churches as in the others, according to announcements made on Saturday. The weather all day was cloudy but the temperature was mild.

RAINBOW SOCIAL.—The Rainbow Social to be held at Sarepta Hall, King street, this week, under the auspices of Rathbone Division, Knights of Pythias, promises to be the event of the season. The hall is being beautifully decorated. There will be music, dancing and other amusements every night. The various military and civic organizations of this city and Washington will attend in a body. A beautiful gold watch and chain and a handsome sofa are among the articles to be voted for.

REVIVAL.—The services in the Baptist Church yesterday were of the same interesting nature as those of last week, and large crowds gathered. At both services a number of persons presented themselves for membership in the church and at night three were baptized. Services will be continued to-night.

The High School football club defeated the Rockvilles on Saturday evening by a score of 17 to 0.

THE FOREIGN BOOK.—A Washington paper says whether or not the license of the Virginia Jockey Club will be revoked by the Jockey Club will probably be decided to-day, at a hearing to be given the Asaph officials in New York on the foreign book question. If they succeed in convincing the members of the Jockey Club that the foreign book is not located on the club premises, it is a practical declaration that the law of the State of Virginia is being violated, and it would seem that the foreign book will have to be abandoned in any event. Under any circumstance there is a strong probability that the St. Asaph people will leave the Jockey Club and cast their fortunes with the Turf Congress.

A dispatch from Washington says: Pending action by the Jockey Club on the matter of the location of the foreign book at St. Asaph, the Virginia Jockey Club continues hopeful that its racing license will not be revoked. The club will be reorganized, no matter what the outcome of the foreign book muddle. It is expected that Secretary McIntyre, Presiding Judge Powers and possibly Starter Fitzgerald will shortly resign their respective positions. Secretary McIntyre is said to have disposed of his holdings in the Virginia track to Lynn & Wall the Baltimore book and pool room firm, and will in any event only remain as secretary for another fortnight.

THE RACES.—Notwithstanding the rain the races at St. Asaph to-day were well attended. All the races were run in the rain and mud. The first four resulted as follows:

First race, 5 furlongs—Pontear, won; Golden Gate, second; Foundling third. Time, 1:05 1/2.

Second race, 7 furlongs—Sandowne, won; Plenty, second; Major General, third. Time, 1:32.

Third race, 1 mile—Floretta, won; Premier, second; Summertime, third. Time, 5:11.

Fourth race, 1 mile—Charade, won; Logan, second; Restraint, third. Time, 1:47.

The third race was for the Monticello stakes of $1,000.

ROYAL ARCANUM.—Grand-Regent J. J. Jamieson, of the Grand Council, Royal Arcanum, has appointed the following committees for 1895:

Finance: J. Taylor Elyson, Richmond; J. P. Banks, Petersburg; R. W. Arnold, Alexandria.

Laws and Appeals: W. H. Williams, Richmond; E. M. Bilisly, Portsmouth; J. A. Brown, Ashland.

Deputy Grand Regents—William Lovenshein, Richmond; W. F. Irvine, Norfolk; A. B. Botts, Fredericksburg; Rev. F. T. McFadden, Marion.

Among the District Deputy Grand Regents appointed were: Alexandria, A. G. Uhler; Fredericksburg, W. H. Harkamp.

FISH.—Since Saturday about 300,000 herring and 5,000 shad have arrived at Fishtown. Herring sold to-day at $1.50 and $2.50 per thousand and shad at $8.00 and $12.00 per hundred.

Large hauls are being made now at many of the shores, but the low prices at which fish are selling hardly pay for catching them.

The Howard Cassard. SHIPYARD, ALEXA., Va., April 8, '95. To the Editor of the Alexandria Gazette:

Believing that the steamer Howard Cassard possesses features worthy of the attention of naval architects and marine engineers, I propose to exhibit the same in such manner as will enable persons skilled in the art to which each of such features appertain to come and pass judgment thereon. In pursuance of this policy, I shall offer for criticism on Wednesday, April 10, 1895, at 2 o'clock p. m., the propeller which constructed in this city for that vessel, which now occupies the marine railway at the shipyard here, in doing this I claim for the wheel aligned to the only perfect alignment of desired pitch that was ever had in a screw constructed for the propulsion of a vessel. I assure this position rather as a defense of my plans against willful slander than as a challenge to honest intelligence, which only asserts itself after an investigation such as my enemies have never indulged in. Respectfully,

ROBT. W. FRYER.

Twelve cases of smallpox exist in two families of negroes in Charles county, Md.

DIED. Entered into rest at her mother's residence, 921 north Washington street, April 7, MATHIE KNOX, widow, wife of Charles Knoxville, and the devoted daughter of Margaret and the late William Alexander, in the 28th year of her age.

Thou who in Thy still rest
Our dear one safe dost keep;
Thou who shalt bring them back
One day from their long sleep.
Oh, keep us by Thy grace,
That we at last may be,
When that bright morning dawns,
At home with them and Thee.

Funeral Tuesday, April 9th, at 2 o'clock p. m., from Christ Church. Relatives and friends are invited. (Washington and Chicago papers please copy.)

The county board of supervisors meets to-morrow at the county court house.

Many members of the M. P. Conference to-day visited Alexandria-Washington Lodge room.

Twelve race horses of Morrison's stables passed through this city yesterday from New Orleans to the St. Asaph race course.

The U. S. lighthouse steamer Maple, Captain French, has arrived at Washington after replacing the buoys in the Potomac river.

George Belew was thrown from a horse near the Driving Park Saturday. Dr. Howard attended him at his home on south Patrick street.

It will be seen by an article on the first page that the District of Columbia commissioners will not allow Alexandria gilliers to fish north of Jones's Point.

The sidewheel steamer Lancaster, of Baltimore, which has taken the place of the Potomac, while the latter is being repaired, arrived here on Saturday night and left again yesterday evening.

Mrs. Margaret Henry, formerly of this city, died at Carlin's Springs on Saturday, aged 77 years. Her remains were brought to this city to-day and the funeral took place from the M. P. Church. She was a sister of Mr. E. C. Atwell.

In Washington on Saturday Susan Banister was granted a divorce from Clayton Banister. They were married at Farmwell in August, 1876, the wife's maiden name being Johnson. She charged her husband with abuse and cruelty, and asked for the custody of her four children and for her dower rights.

Theodore Rout, a crippled pensioner, who generally paints "Peterburg" red when he draws his quarterly allowance, was on the war path yesterday, and when Lieutenant Smith undertook to arrest him he showed fight. He left $10 collateral for his appearance this morning, but failed to respond when the case was called and forfeited the sum to the city.

The services at the railroad reading rooms yesterday evening were conducted by Mr. W. D. Buckner and were largely attended. In a day or two the work of erecting a building near the present rooms, with a seating capacity of 350, will be commenced, and it is expected to have the building completed by the middle of May. Much interest is being taken in this work.

Nancy Poindester, who died on Saturday morning last, expressed a strong desire to be "cut open." At the request of her daughter, Mrs. Bechtel, Asbury and Miller, on Saturday afternoon, had a post mortem, which resulted in a diagnosis of tuberculosis.

Richard Ross, a colored county constable, who, on Sunday, the 31st of March, at Arlington, shot W. F. Gardner, also colored, who assaulted him, was on Saturday evening taken from the jail in this city before a county jury and released on bail.

A number of persons from Washington and this city will leave here to-night for Newport News to see the launch there to-morrow of the new Norfolk line steamer, Newport News, which is to run as a day boat between Washington and Norfolk.

Being convinced that much adverse criticism concerning this city is caused by the ill-appraised appearance of some of the wharves, Councilman Kraft is preparing an ordinance requiring these wharves to be either repaired or removed.

In the Corporation Court to-day, in the case of Larkin vs. Stewart, a judgment was entered for plaintiff and garnishee ordered to pay plaintiff from money in his hands.

A much needed rain commenced falling last night and continued throughout the day. This will help vegetation generally.

The literary class will meet at 7:30 o'clock to-night and consider U. S. History, spelling, city government and arithmetic.
